

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry "documentary" days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This is an outrageous example of the influence that is being exerted by major corporations with control of the public airwaves. The media is failing to support democracy in it's reporting and the FCC is failing in it's obligation to support the freedom of the airwaves by supporting consolidation and allowing this kind of bias to be promoted over our public airwaves.

Thank you.
